

Here Until You'll Hear It

It's so sad when they can't hear the music.

Can you hear it
Calling you into this present moment ?

This endless work you are caught up in...
All the things your mind is wrestling with...
Can you put them down for a moment
And come dance with me?

Listen to the music with me. Let it make love with you.
Feel it vibrate your bones, sing to your soul, letting it tickle the whole of you.

Stop
Don't get lost again
Listen

My love is so great - I will sit here with you until you can truly
Hear
Maybe for the first time.

I'll wait
Patiently by your side
Until you are able to settle,
To land on the composition
stop fighting and let yourself happen.

If you truly listen to the music
You will hear it, feel it
It's you.

And we'll smile as we lay together
Side by side
And allow each note of god
To play our bodies into ecstasy
Welcome home
