

Ice Cream & Gelato

When you wake up you find the thing you want
And when you are asleep you dream of all the things that you think you want.

My daughter, if you ask her what she wants
She'll tell you about her favorite ice cream flavor

But if you ask me what I want for her
I'll tell you that I want her to have herself

The mystic, what he wants for you is to have yourself
But the seeker, he doesn't want himself
He wants to get enlightened, he wants the ice cream

When you eat gelato you get an experience
But the gelato maker, for him it's his expression.

My daughter she wants to have an experience
And I just love her expression when she tastes it
I don't care about the ice cream
I just love it when she smiles

But I also love it when I love
Because I love my expression too.

Today, I am the mystic
Why ?
Because I have myself

One day I hope you find that what you want most of all is yourself
In the meantime I'm happy to offer you ice cream.
